BY VALOR BANK

Valor Difference

Guided by commitment to our values.

Valor Bank is guided by the philosophy that faithfulness to our commitments, valuing people, and courage to follow God's will are what make Valor different.

On September 12, 2014, a group of local bankers and business leaders purchased an existing bank charter, First State Bank, with the hope of building a bank not just in the community, but for the community. This vision was led by President & CEO, Josh Litsch, who wanted to reimagine what a local bank could be. In 2015, First State Bank became Valor Bank, a name honoring our legacy and purpose.

We are focused on serving the community through real estate and business lending, FDIC-insured bank accounts, and joyfully giving 10% of our profits to local nonprofits making a positive difference. We value a culture of excellence, generosity, humility, initiative, integrity, and respect. Our commitment to our values guides us in everything we do.

We are grateful for everyone that has made the decision to bank with Valor and look forward to serving you and your family.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Josh Litsch". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

Giving Vision

Serving our community.

As a locally owned bank we understand the importance of a community that helps meet the needs of one another.

We believe that love and generosity are the foundation of a thriving community. This conviction stems from our faith in Jesus who abundantly loves us and has been more generous to us than we deserve.

We want to spread those same values to our neighborhoods by joyfully giving 10% of our profits to non-profits making a positive difference.

We take great pride in being able to come alongside those making a difference and help provide the means for them to continue their work. This is part of our overall mission of not just creating an exceptional banking experience but helping to continue the long history of our exceptional community.
